Foreword...

Outlanders might wonder why past graduates are startled upon revisiting the Marsfield campus. However, those who have not seen the changes of the last few years have reason to express surprise. Expansion has been considerable, and, although MSC is not a physical titan among colleges, it is rapidly losing the appearance of "the little village on the hill," the translation of the Indian word, carontawan.

Carontawan took its name as a reminder to the student body that the campus is a community growing--but not unfriendly--efficient--but not impersonal. The impression remains today; perhaps the succeeding pages capture the image that is Marsfield State College.

Administration and Faculty

It is a great privilege to be President of Mansfield State College.

Mrs. Bryan and I are grateful for the opportunity to work with the members of the Board of Trustees, faculty, and students in our mutual desire to make Mansfield a highly respected institution of higher learning in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

We appreciate the friendly attitude of the students. It is always a pleasure to associate with them in their many and varied activities. It is encouraging to know that our students are making a concerted effort to increase scholarship at our College. This will pay great dividends for the individual student and the institution in years to come.

Mrs. Bryan and I enjoy the professional and social contacts we have with all the employees of the College.

The business-like way in which the official Board members approach their responsibilities give assurance of stability within the entire institution. All of us, students, faculty members and administration, appreciate the support we receive from each member of the Board of Trustees.

And last but not least, Mrs. Bryan and I are delighted with the wonderful response of the community toward the College. Our association with the Borough officials and many fine citizens give us a sense of pride in our efforts to cooperate with each other.

The music department, as its main emphasis, prepares teachers of music for the public schools of the Commonwealth. It provides a spirited program of curricular and extracurricular activities. In addition to concerts given by the bands, choruses, and orchestra, numerous recitals are performed by faculty members and students, and two major productions a year are presented by the Opera Workshop. At football games the Mountie Marching Band adds a note of spirit and color. Any student, regardless of major area of study, may audition for positions in the music organizations. The degrees offered by the music department are Bachelor of Science in Music Education, Bachelor of Liberal Arts with an area of specialization in music, and on the graduate level a Master of Education with a major in Music Education.

Home Economics

Home Economics Education provides for liberal studies designed to elevate taste, to cultivate values, and to develop the capacity for logical thinking. Home Economics is focused on home and family life marked by mobility, affluence, leisure, and young parenthood. The majority of women will be both homemaker and wage earner. Higher education in home economics affords preparation for the several roles of the home economics teacher, the homemaker and contributor to society in the local, national and world community.

Elementary Education

The Elementary Education Curriculum, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education and state certification, entitles the holder to teach in the elementary schools of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Prospective elementary teachers receive a broad general education; concentration is chosen to gain depth as well as breadth of preparation.

The elementary program provides opportunity for student-teaching and participation experiences.

Secondary Education

RICHARD FINLEY
Chairman

Associate Professor; B.S., Pennsylvania State University; M.Ed., Pennsylvania State University.

The Secondary Education Curriculum provides the twofold preparation needed by the high school teacher: first, the liberal education, and second, the professional.

For the liberal education, and for the degree of specialization required for certification, the secondary curriculum is serviced by the academic department. For the professional education, students receive instruction in history and philosophy of education, psychological principles underlying learning theory, techniques and methods of instruction, and seminars for discussion of the problems confronting teachers. This sequence is culminated by a full semester of off-campus student teaching.

Special Education

The Department of Special Education aims at providing teachers to instruct the type of exceptional child who is mentally retarded. By working in conjunction with the Elementary and Secondary Education Departments, the present program enables students to have an area of concentration in Special Education. Thus graduates are prepared to teach both Special Education and their major area in secondary or elementary education.

A proposed program which will provide for a Bachelor of Science in Special Education is to be evaluated this year.

Art

The Art Education Department, one of the newest of curricula offered at Mansfield State College, obtained approval from the Department of Public Instruction to institute a program for the preparation of art teachers September 1, 1967. Currently there are thirty-four students majoring in art education. The center of instructional activities for the prospective artist-teachers is the second floor of Allen Hall containing classrooms, oil and ceramics studios, and offices. Drawing, design, and sculpture classes are also held in the Art Annex on South Academy Street, the hub of activities for the Art Club

LIBERAL ARTS

Liberal Arts at Mansfield State College, currently in a state of transition, is destined clearly to become an integral part of the preparation of every student in any curriculum on campus. Liberal Arts provides a basic education for every profession, or alternatively, for a continuing self-education following education. It gives meaning to one's philosophical background much as the professions lend support to the necessity of employment. To live is to learn; and with a liberal education behind him, any student can continue to learn more easily and with a greater appreciation for his heritage.

ROBERT J. BRIDGMAN
Chairman

Professor; B.S., Western Michigan University; M.A., University of Michigan

Mathematics

The Mathematics Department offers a variety of courses in pure and applied mathematics for general education and for specialization.

The Arts and Sciences major in math, depending on his interests and ability, qualifies for either a position in industry or for the graduate study of mathematics.

For the Secondary Education major, an appropriate program is offered. In addition to those who enter the teaching profession, many students in this curriculum choose to continue their study of mathematics at the graduate level or decide to enter industry.

In addition, a mathematics program is offered for all students as a part of their general educational background.

Social Science

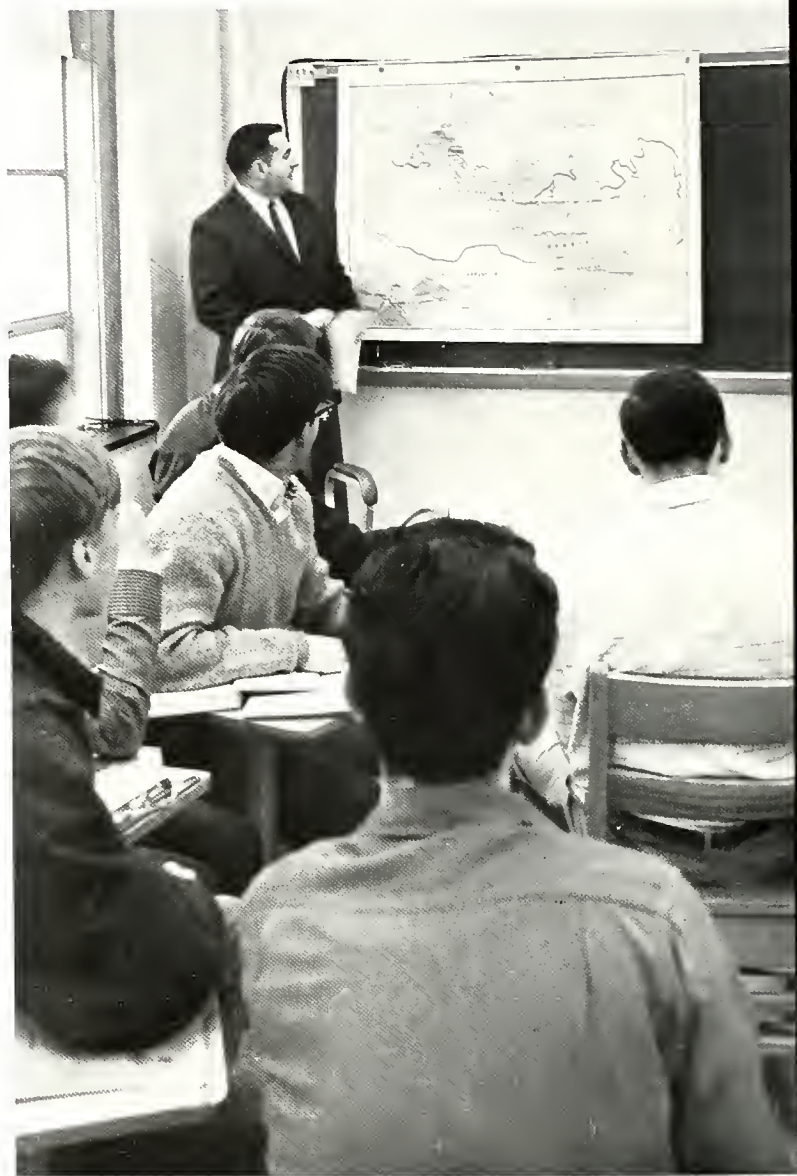

The Social Science Department at Mansfield is composed of the disciplines of history, geography, political science, economics, sociology and anthropology. The Department offers a well-balanced program for prospective teachers of history, social studies and geography. For the students interested in a Liberal Arts education, the Department offers majors in history, social science, geography, and will add political science in the near future. A broad base of social science is provided for general education and a minor for students whose interests are in other academic areas. The Department develops an interest in the social sciences among its students and provides them with skills that will be of value to them and to their communities throughout their lives.

The Department of English at Mansfield has been a separate department only this year. It emerged with a large number of majors (169) and a well-qualified staff. Of one part-time and eighteen full-time faculty members in the Department, four hold the Ph.D. degree. Next year the Department will number one part-time and twenty-two full-time faculty members; seven will hold the Ph.D.

The Department offers a single major which meets requirements set by national organizations for the preparation of teachers of English. It meets the needs, also, of students in liberal arts seeking careers in commerce and industry. The Department offers a Master's degree. Beginning with the first summer session 1968, graduate work in English will be placed on a regularly scheduled, full-time basis.

Speech and Drama

The Department of Speech and Drama recognizes the need for a better understanding of human communication. The many-sided phenomena and applications of speech and drama are unified in a curriculum which not only provides for individual interests, but also places those interests in the spectrum of the whole field. Thus, whether he teaches, goes on to graduate study, or enters business, the Speech and Drama major obtains a well-balanced, general knowledge of speech science, communication, and drama, either in the tradition of liberal education or teacher education.

Languages

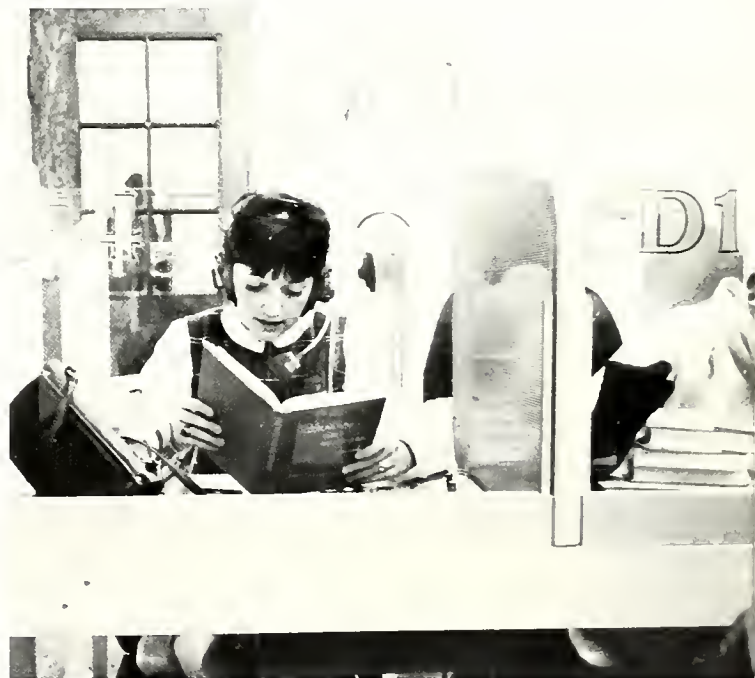

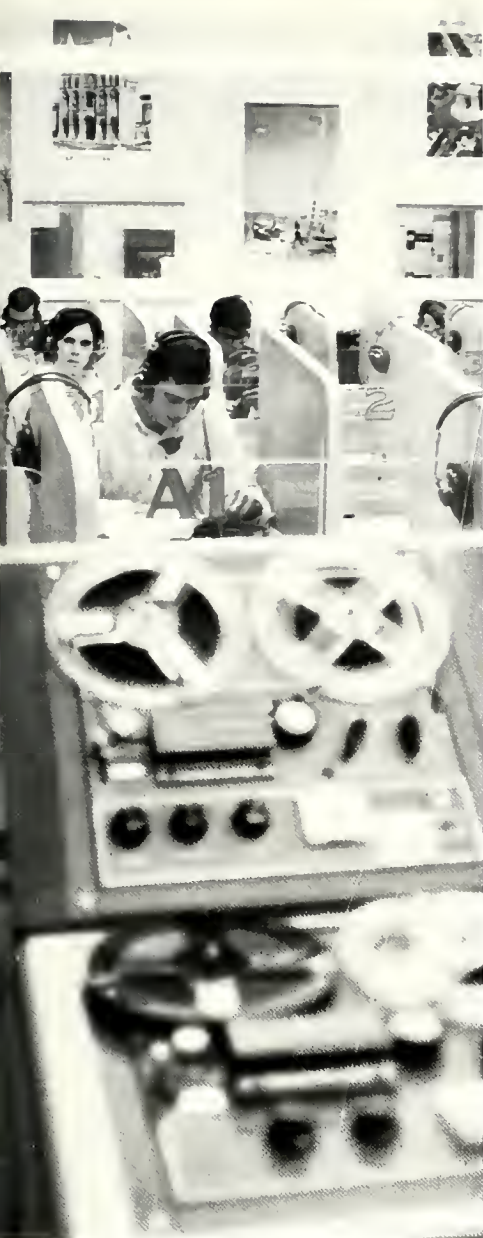

As the globe seems to diminish in size, communication takes on far greater importance. With this thought in mind, the department is responding to an immediate need in the field of modern languages. The instructors have generated enthusiasm even as they make their students aware of the growing urgency. To keep pace with the demand for language experts, the laboratory facilities have become a focal point in the learning process. Students are rapidly becoming skilled as they absorb, not only language, but culture.

Sciences

Within the realm of science function the departments of Chemistry, Biology, and Physics. Each maintains a separate identity; yet they are molded by the denominations of curiosity and investigation. By utilizing laboratories and promoting seminars, students maintain the standards set by the department. And to insure the continuing progress within that department, an expansion program is now underway. It will include a new building, vital equipment, and additional faculty members.

The Alpha Chapter of Chi Psi Omega was founded on March 6, 1966, as a social club working toward sorority status which it gained September 16, 1966. With its purpose to promote lasting friendships and, through sisterhood, to maintain high standards of honor, loyalty and service, Chi Psi Omega has been active on Mansfield's campus. In the fall, Dee Brennan was crowned Homecoming Queen with sisters Ruth Irons and Ardith Bridges on the court. "Chi Psi" took first place in the sorority division of the fall Greek Olympics.

Winter came with "Chi Psi" and Phi Sigma Epsilon joining forces to give a Christmas party for underprivileged children. The sisters placed first in the Grecian Sing. With the coming of spring, three sisters were honored on the Spring Weekend Court: Janet Spencer, Nancy Wood, and Dee Brennan. Among other activities, Chi Psi Omega participated in Freshman Pre-Orientation, Alumni Day Activities, and Dining Hall Decorations. Chi Psi Omega had the honor of seeing her brother fraternity, Phi Sigma Kappa, gain national status. 1968 was a proud year for Chi Psi Omega.

The Iota Theta Chapter of Delta Zeta, now in its third year on the Mansfield campus, has already established a fine tradition. The sisters held their successful annual Pancake Jamboree and fall Dinner-Dance. Good times were had at the Delta Zeta-Sigma Tau Gamma basketball game and the Spring Pledge Dance. The united efforts of the sisterhood were rewarded by the first place winning of the Homecoming Float Trophy, the Scholarship Cup, and second place in the Grecian Sing.

Phi Nu Chapter of Phi Sigma Epsilon, oldest social fraternity at Mansfield, was instrumental in establishing the fraternity system on campus. The ideals of the fraternity are: scholarship, religious responsibility, financial responsibility, fraternalism, citizenship, and social leadership.

It was a very good year for Phi Sigma Epsilon as they added twenty-five brothers to their ranks. The spirit of Phi Sigma Epsilon took form in many activities. Phi Sig's participation in interfraternity athletics showed them to be softball champions. During the Christmas season the brothers, along with the sisters of Chi Psi Omega, discovered the warm feeling of giving when they held a joyous Christmas party for the underprivileged children of the Mansfield area. At the close of the year, the brothers held their Spring Formal at the Lodge on the Green at which Margie Howard won the distinction of being chosen the Sweetheart of Phi Sigma Epsilon.

Phi Sigma Kappa has attained a milestone in fraternity life; the Mansfield Colony has been inducted as a National Chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa on April 20, 1968. The induction ceremony, banquet, and party was a gala affair which was the highlight of Phi Sigma Kappa's 1967-68 social calendar.

The fraternity upholds the Three Cardinal Principles; promote brotherhood, develop character, and stimulate scholarship. Maintaining these goals is the main objective of the fraternity.

The Brothers participated in campus activities including the Homecoming Parade, Grecian Sing, and Inter-Fraternity Council softball and football in which Kappa won first place.

Gamma Alpha chapter of Sigma Tau Gamma was initiated onto the MSC campus in February of 1965. Since its beginning, Gamma Alpha has striven to uphold the ideals of manhood, brotherhood, and citizenship, establishing a strong bond of friendship and service between themselves and with the college and the community.

The 1967-68 school year began with the brothers returning to a completely renovated fraternity house. During November, the fall pledges had the honor of presenting a Sigma Tau Gamma paddle to Governor Schaffer. The Delta Zeta pancake contest was quite an event with brother Gary Wesmiller capturing first place by consuming fifty-one pancakes. Sig Tau's basketball game with DZ proved to be a challenge. By participating in interfraternity football, baseball, and basketball, Sigma Tau Gamma has exhibited spirit and support. The weekend of May 18th and the annual pinning ceremony was culminated by the White Rose Ball.

Co-Captains

The 1967-68 Mountie Grid Machine produced one of the most exciting and successful seasons in recent MSC history. From an opening game 44-0 triumph over Geneva College, to the resounding 49-7 victory over Kutztown in the season's final, the fans were treated to a brand of football that was characterized by an explosive offense and a rock-ribbed defense.

Mike Sauchuk and John Soprano were selected as co-captains of this year's team. This was a fitting tribute to the two men who may be the last Mounties to earn varsity football letters.

Several members of the class of '68 were named to the Pennsylvania State College "All Conference Team." John Soprano, the diminutive halfback, was a first team selection. Dave Straub, a three year starter, won a defensive end berth, and Lou DiFilippantonio, one of MSC's most versatile linemen, was named to an offensive tackle position. Phil Answini (offensive end), Sal Patti (offensive guard), Tim Salony (defensive end), and Rich Bowen (defensive halfback) were also All Conference picks.

When we were high, we were very, very high; but when we were low, brother, it was---. Those low points were Bloomsburg State, East Stroudsburg State, and West Chester State. The high points, and they were high, were those six sweet victories, the most for the Mounties in 27 years.

Highlights:

In the opener of the M. S. C. football season, the Mounties easily beat Geneva and continued their fine performance by downing Delaware State. Riding high from their two previous victories, the Mounties were ready for their arch rival, the Huskies of Bloomsburg. But, alas, the Huskies' aerial attack proved too much for the Mounties. It was a bitter defeat, a real heartbreaker.

The team was up again for its 50-8 romp over Cheyney, and a slightly overconfident squad made the long bus trip to Millersville State. It took the combination of the Mounties' potent offense and a stingy defense to come home with a victory.

Co-Captain, Soprano, sweeps for the needed yardage

For four years the 1968 seniors had watched as East Stroudsburg State humiliated Mansfield. This year they knew it was the year of revenge, and it looked like revenge was theirs - until fate turned on the Mounties and they lost. Not humiliation this time, but disgust - a very big improvement.

Brockport fielded the toughest team the Mounties have seen from this New York school. It took a lot of good rough and tough football to bring a victory back to M. S. C. With West Chester State, it was again humiliation.

If the phrase, "The last thing you do will be long remembered" is true, then the '67 Mountie seniors left a good foundation for Coach Kelchner's 1968 team to build on, with a 49-7 rout of Kutztown State and a 6-3 record.

Griffing with another rebound.

"Kansas City, Here We Come!" was again number one of the chants at M. S. C. as the Mounties started their first season under the firm guidance of Coach Ed Wilson. The Mounties were a rated contender before the season, and they lived up to everything expected of them.

The Mounties started the season off properly by christening East Stroudsburg's new Koehler Field House with its first loss, 78-68. They continued with unusual success and won all seven games before the Christmas break.

Bolstering the Mounties' attack was senior, Walt Bartkowski, juniors - Fran Ducheskie, Dave Brisel, Joel Griffing, Mike Tamamoto, Greg Dunham, and Don Walker, and sophomores - Ron Collier, Joe Luckman and Ron Pointek.

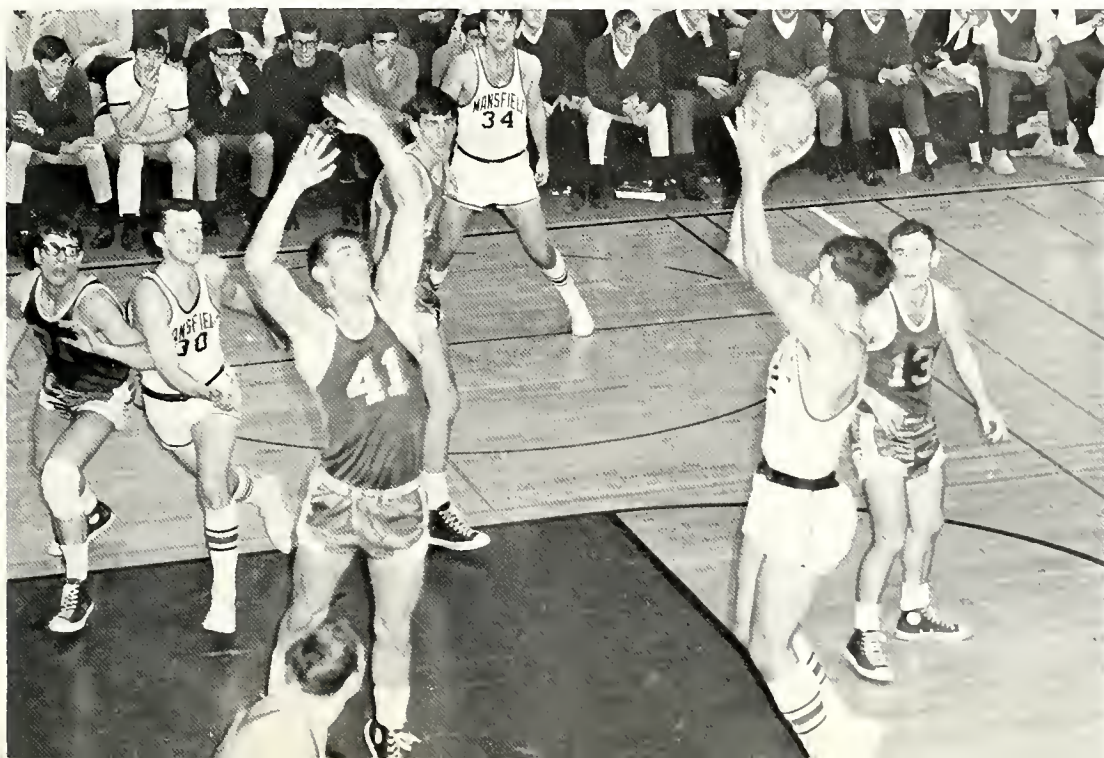

The season's record of 17-7 was highlighted by wins over Edinboro State, the new state champions, and a win over a powerful, highly rated Maryland State team in the first game of the playoffs. The Kansas City Express was missed with a loss to Millersville in the District 19 Finals.

The leading scorer for the Mounties was captain Walt Bartkowski, a senior, who scored at a 17.5 clip and hauled in 7.9 rebounds per game. Walt also was on the Eastern Division first team.

The Mounties ended the season with a well-balanced attack which included all five starters being over double figures. Overall, the Mounties were able to score at a 85.6 average, while holding the opponents to an average of 73.5.

To add to the success of the team, Coach Wilson, in his first year at the helm, was selected N. A. I. A. District 19 Coach of the Year.

of the matmen, Dieter has one of the most impressive records with 10 wins, 2 losses, and 2 draws. In the PSCAC tournament Dieter, wrestling at 177, finished in fourth place.

The Mounties ended the season with a 7-7 record. As a team, the Mountaineers scored 250 points to the opposition's 286. The Mounties won 18 individual matches by falls and 38 by decisions. The opponents collected 17 individual falls and 49 decisions against M. S. C.

In the PSCAC tournament M. S. C. placed 7th with 14 points and in the NAIA Mansfield was tied for 33rd place with 2 points. The NAIA field was composed of 63 teams. Dieter and Gary gathered the Mountie points.

In 1962, Dr. Wallace Maurer introduced to Mansfield a sport that dated as far back as the ancient Greeks. In its first year wrestling showed great promise. Today under the capable direction of Coach Henry Shaw, wrestling has become a major sport at Mansfield State College.

This year's team had many great moments, but there were also some unpleasant ones. The first quadrangular meet ever held at M. S. C. was won with surprising ease by the Mountie matmen. Gary Bottiger, a junior from Mifflinburg, set a new record by scoring the highest decision over an opponent. Gary defeated George Miller of Oneonta 18-0. In the PSCAC competition Gary once again proved his strength. He finished third in the 191 lb. weight class. Dieter Schwarzbauer also brought some glory to Mansfield territory. The 1968 Mounties had a losing season after a strong showing in 1967. Seventeen away games out of 23 games and a difficult schedule that included NCAA powers, Penn State and Cornell, contributed to the off year. Still it was a good team, winning more games than all but one former Mountie squad. Losing only two lettermen, the diamondmen are looking for a big season in 1969. They should receive help from this year's undefeated freshman squad.

1968 was the sixth year for track and field at M. S. C. As usual, the Tioga weather did not co-operate with the trackmen and thus prevented them from being in the best of condition at the beginning of the season. The season, as a whole, offered more to be desired, but there were some bright spots.

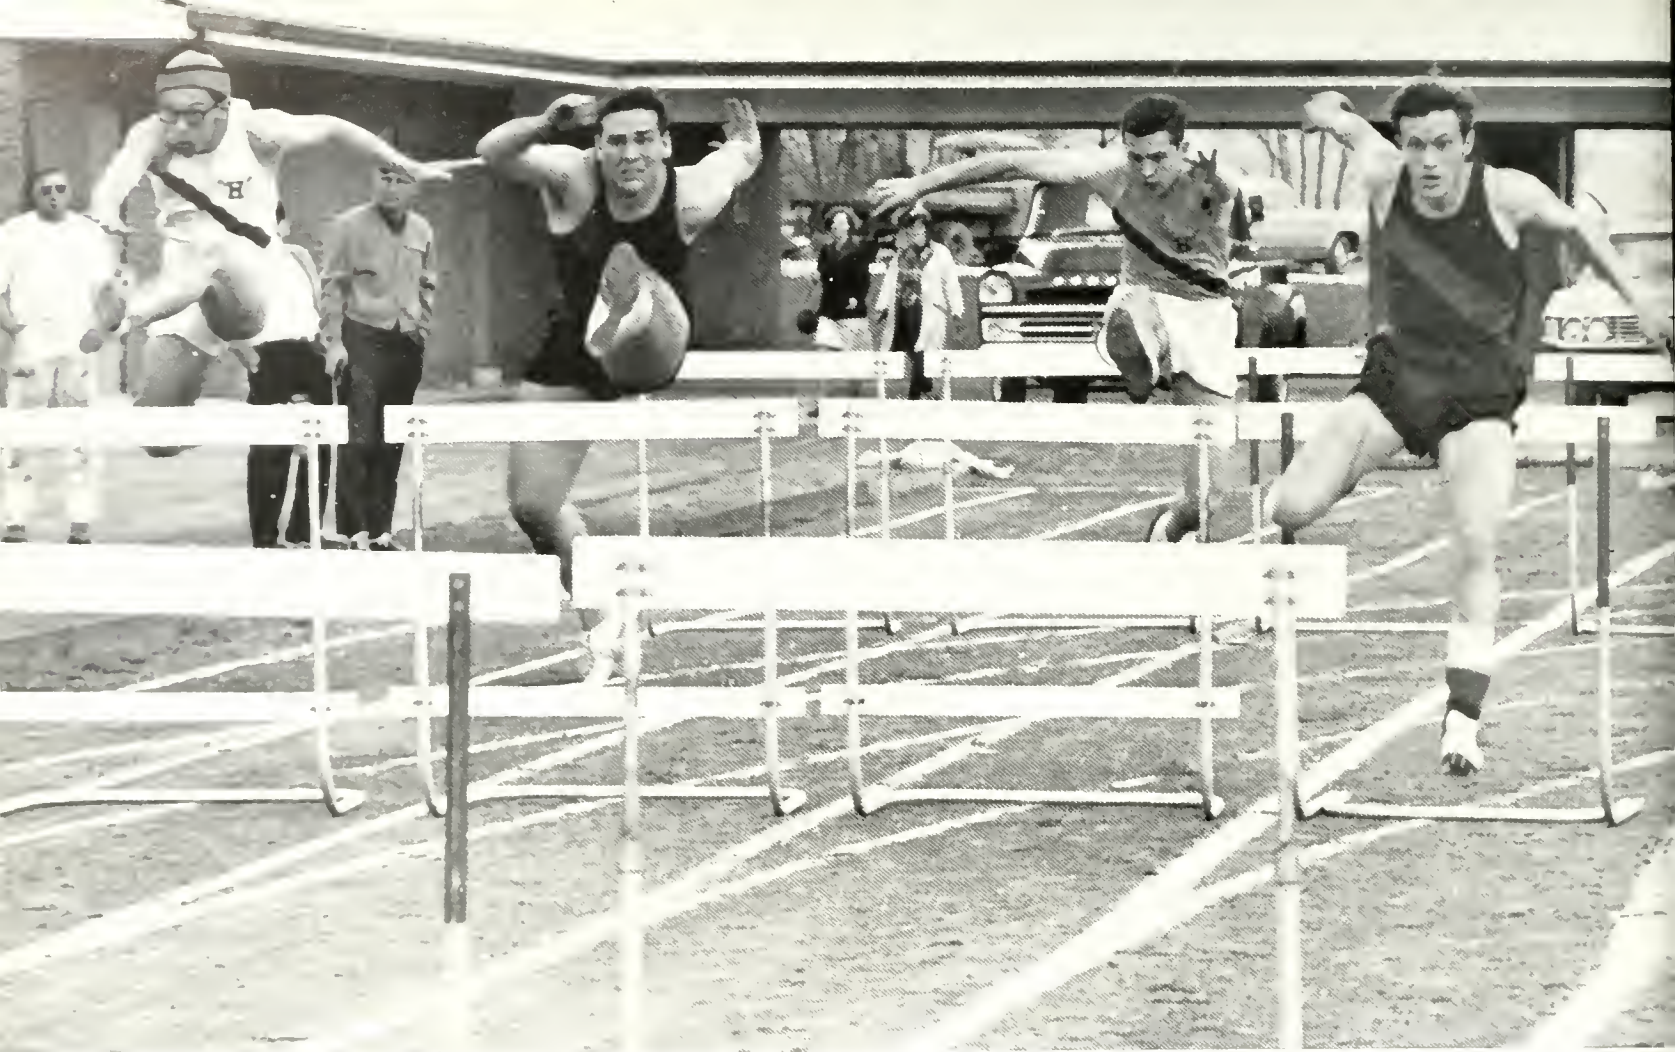

During the year Steve Sweet broke the mile record (4:22.8) and the 880 (2 min.). Reesman, Adonizio, Wood, and Pierce broke the 440 relay (43.3), and Phil Wood's 50.6 broke the 440 yd. run.

At the P. S. C. A. Meet the Mounties took 7th place. Some individual standouts at this meet were Steve Sweet, 1st in the mile; Ed Spang, 4th in the 880; Joe Hanko, 6th in the 400 intermediate hurdles.

The track team is looking forward to a strong team next year. The team loses only three seniors, Tom Mann, Guy Vlasits, and William Reesman.

Courage, devotion, and endurance are the trademarks of a good cross country man. The men who composed the first cross country team at M. S. C. possess these qualities. Although they receive little recognition for their efforts, the team did a remarkable job for beginners. A cross country race covers a distance of five miles, but many more miles must be spent in training for the event.

Against a strong Lock Haven team, and with only three runners, Mansfield's Hanley finished second, Sweet fourth, and Kibbe sixth. At the PSCA's meet at West Chester, out of 42 runners, Kevin Hanley finished 13th, Steve Sweet 15th, John Collum 17th, Ed Spang 21st, Dick Gregg 26th, and Len Kibbe 31st. The team was coached by Mr. Maxson and Joe Trosino.

The Mounties did their best and are to be congratulated for fine effort.

Practically the entire team will be returning next year, since Bill Stettler is the only senior. The one bright spot of the season was Joel Griffing finishing in the Pennsylvania State Meet.

Could I but choose -

I wonder would it be when quick heartbeats are all me.

Youth reaching out through eyes and lips;

ambition-tingled fingertips;

Would it be then - that I would choose to die?

Could I but choose -

In manhood - strength made bold, with all my world to plan and mold;

And joy and love and zest of life,

with cool and calm and heat of strife:

Would it be then - that I would choose to die?

Could I but choose -

Old age and brimming cup;

the numbered years still climbing up;

Strength falling into weakness now;

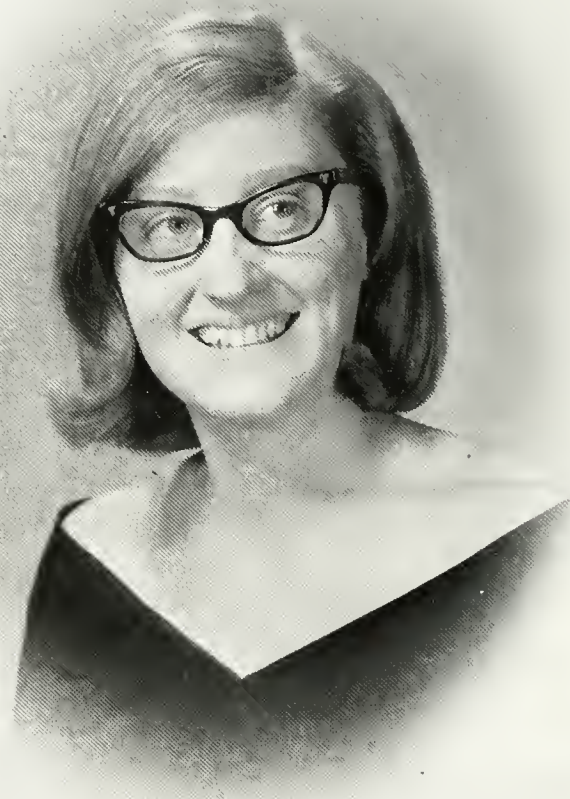

eyes dimmed to light and ruffled brow;

Would it be then - that I would choose to die?

If I could choose, I think that I would leave to God my time to die.

Earnest Dedication . . .

President Bryan

Dr. Fred E. Bryan, immediate past president of Mansfield State College, was everything that could be expected of a college president; he was an enthusiastic speaker, a dedicated educator, and a capable administrator. He and his wife, Betty, were the best of hosts when visitors came to campus. But while all these qualities in him are respected, they are qualities which we often tend to take for granted and not ones for which college presidents are remembered.

Dr. Bryan, as we will remember him, was an all 'round good guy. Whether he was entertaining at various campus functions, playing drums with a visiting dance band, or dancing with his wife across the gymnasium floor, he communicated with the students.

Frequently we saw him in the cafeteria, and he was not afraid to sit with students during meals. Or we saw pictures of him looking over new land which the college had been given - and he was not content to look at the lands through the eyes of some cartographer. We saw him at our organizational functions and our informal get-togethers, at our football games, and pep rallies.

The real reminiscences, however, do not rely upon mental photographs of watching a great guy do great things - we can remember talking to him, shaking his hand, listening to him answer our questions and answering his questions. We remember, firsthand, incidents of his fairness and open-mindedness.

And this is always the way we shall remember him.

MANSFIELD, HAIL!

*Old Mansfield high upon the eastern hill, Dear
Mansfield, hail to thee!*

Thy loyal sons and daughters with a will Salute in melody.

We bring a laurel wreath of praise, And pledge our love thro' all the day;

Our Alma Mater, dear, all hail to thee! Old Mansfield, hail to thee!

We never can forget the days we've spent Within thy hallow walls,

We'll learn sometime what all your lessons meant When larger duty calls.

For every law and rule of thine Is made to fit our life's design.

We'll consecrate our lives to Truth and thee, Old Mansfield, hail to thee!

Index

Since the beginning of printing and permanent communications, names have made news wherever people have lived. The names of the students which appear in the following index have been a vital part of the college during the past year. Their names have been recorded as members of countless organizations, on fraternity and sorority rolls, on the official records of the registrar, and in many general publications.

Before these students' social and professional careers are ended, the same names may appear in many of the leading professional publications, and may be well known for their contributions to society.

The Living End . . .

Each individual on this campus is aware of pride in accomplishment. Be it the discovery of a high grade, a successful experiment, the conclusion of a really great paper, or news of a scholarship, the tendency is to relax, sigh, and bathe in a warm glow. Yearbook staff members are at least that human, and most are determined that their year's record be more complete and distinctive than any in the past. For the Carontawan staff that moment has finally arrived. And just what are our accomplishments? Wherein lies our pride?

In this edition we have tried to capture the personality of Mansfield through the use of pictures. Pictures are distinctive in that they can evoke from each of us a part of our own personal feelings. We have thus tried to recreate the major events and the simple day to day occurrences on the Mansfield campus by emphasizing the faces which make this campus ours. We have also included more color than ever before and have tried to present new ideas in design and layout.

Yet, are these our greatest accomplishments? No, not quite. We take pride in the tenacity of small numbers.

As editor of this yearbook, I take unholy pride in the staff and advisors who wrought miracles while sacrificing much of themselves.
